11. Any Other Business

2 items were passed to the Secretary ahead of the AGM:

- Martin Bacon intends to create a 'fact sheet' for new and existing members to outline exactly what we do with finds, and how we process them end-to-end, the names of the various archaeology bodies/organisations we work with, or which we should be aware of, and any abbreviations we use, and what they stand for. Martin also intends to create a form of receipt for guest fieldwalkers.
- Colin Coates extended grateful thanks on behalf of the entire group to Bill and June Woodfield for all they have done for CAFG, as they retire from the committee seconded by all present.

The President discussed his presidency, feeling he should expect to step back as he nears retirement from Oxford Archaeology, and noted how well CAFG is going from strength to strength at present. He and various members of the audience discussed options that could keep the group close to both Oxford Archaeology and the University faculty. Barrie Fuller led thanks for all Paul Spoerry has done for the Group as President.
